COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

December 4, 1963

Mr. Frank Bartes
1608 Mason Smith Avenue
Metairie, Louisiana

Dear Mr. Bartes:

I have received your letter of October 16 regarding the plight of the Cuban people under the Castro dictatorship. Although I feel confident that the Cuban people will eventually be liberated from the Castro dictatorship, I do not think it would be feasible for the United States to liberate Cuba by force. I believe that the current United States policy of diplomatic and economic isolation of the Castro regime is the most practical policy under existing circumstances.

Sincerely yours,

John Sparkman
